GENERAL RULES

- The Organisation accepts no responsibility for the loss, theft or damage to materials, products or computer equipment that the exhibitor has on the stand.
- In the event of loss, misplacement or disappearance of material, the replacement of the same shall be at the exhibitor's expense.
- The Organising Committee would appreciate being informed of activities such as exhibitions, group meetings, etc., scheduled outside the exhibition grounds by the Exhibiting Entities/Companies in order to avoid overlapping with the official programme.
- The Organising Committee reserves the right to restrict, at any time, any exhibition material or activity which it deems inappropriate, undesirable or inconsistent with the professionalism of the Congress. In the event of any such action, the Organising Committee shall not be liable for the cost incurred by the company.
- The Organising Committee reserves the right to modify or alter stand spaces for reasons of force majeure or security, in which case exhibitors will be notified in advance for a new choice
- The Organising Committee reserves the right to postpone, shorten or extend the Congress for reasons beyond its control and organisation, or due to force majeure. Such circumstances shall not entitle exhibitors to terminate their contract or claim compensation for damages.
- Companies wishing to set up a FREE DESIGN STAND must notify the Technical Secretariat in good time and submit the plans with measurements and elevation of the stand. The Technical Secretariat will communicate the authorisation for its installation.
- In the event that an exhibitor has a FREE DESIGN STAND, he must submit the project at least one month before the start of assembly for approval by those responsible for the Centre, submitting floor and elevation plans of the same, with their corresponding dimensions and specifications.
- The maximum height allowed for free-design stands is 3.00 m.
- A modular stand and additional furniture can be hired from the Secretariat by requesting the Furniture Dossier.

- The reservation of a stand does not include additional cleaning and maintenance services. It is the obligation of each exhibitor to collect and remove from the facilities all waste generated during the assembly and dismantling activities. It is recommended that they bring the necessary tools and equipment.

- Each exhibitor space will have a maximum power supply of 2,000 watts. If any exhibitor requires a special power supply, this must be communicated to the organiser. The power supply will only operate during the hours of the activity; in the event that permanent power is required, prior notice must be given. Otherwise, the Centre accepts no responsibility for any damage whatsoever. Likewise, it is not responsible for the constancy and continuity of the current supplied inside its facilities, as this depends on the company that produces and distributes this energy.
